

Allianz AND SECURIKEY PARTNERSHIP

Allianz Insurance plc in partnership with Securikey is committed to reducing the high levels of crime impacting on claims experienced in the commercial vehicle and motor trade sector.

Theft

There has been a dramatic increase in the severity of vehicle theft losses during recent years. Multi-vehicle theft is a major factor. The cost of these claims has risen by over 50% which may lead to increases in insurance premiums.

The effects of theft on any company can be devastating. Responding to police enquiries and the completion of insurance forms can be time consuming. Realigning lost or damaged vehicle schedules can also be difficult.

Vehicle keys that are left in vehicles outside business hours have proven to be a major contributing factor to recent losses.

One way of reducing vehicle theft and to improve overall security standards is to install a High Security Key Cabinet.

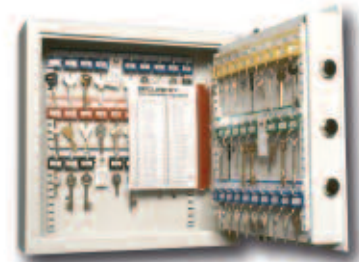

Securikey is a leading supplier of security cabinets and has produced wall mounted key cabinets since 1973.

- Designed for all security environments, these cabinets are made of 3mm steel plate with a 6mm steel door.
- They are fitted with a seven lever lock operated by a double bit key, throwing a horizontal bolt and two vertical locking bars.

- A three-wheel combination lock and an electronic key pad lock are also available.
- They can accommodate up to 300 sets of keys.

Vehicle Key Security

A High Security Key Cabinet is built more like a safe than a standard key cabinet. Therefore it is stronger and able to resist most concerted attacks. It should be fixed to a wall and can be used in the conventional key cabinet manner so it will not impact on the day to day workings of the business.

Allianz in partnership with Securikey have negotiated substantial discounts from normal book rates for the High Security Range. This is in recognition of the efforts by responsible companies to overcome security problems. A discount has been made possible through our Risk Management Initiative. In addition to this discount, we may even contribute towards the final cost (subject to criteria, contact your insurance adviser for further details).
